

MILLENNIAL CITY ZOO

Located beside the city’s green spaces, the Millennial City Zoo is a world-class conservation center dedicated to wildlife protection, education, and discovery. Home to thousands of animals from every corner of the planet, the zoo offers visitors the chance to explore incredible ecosystems while learning about the importance of protecting Earth’s natural wonders.

The Grand Safari Reserve

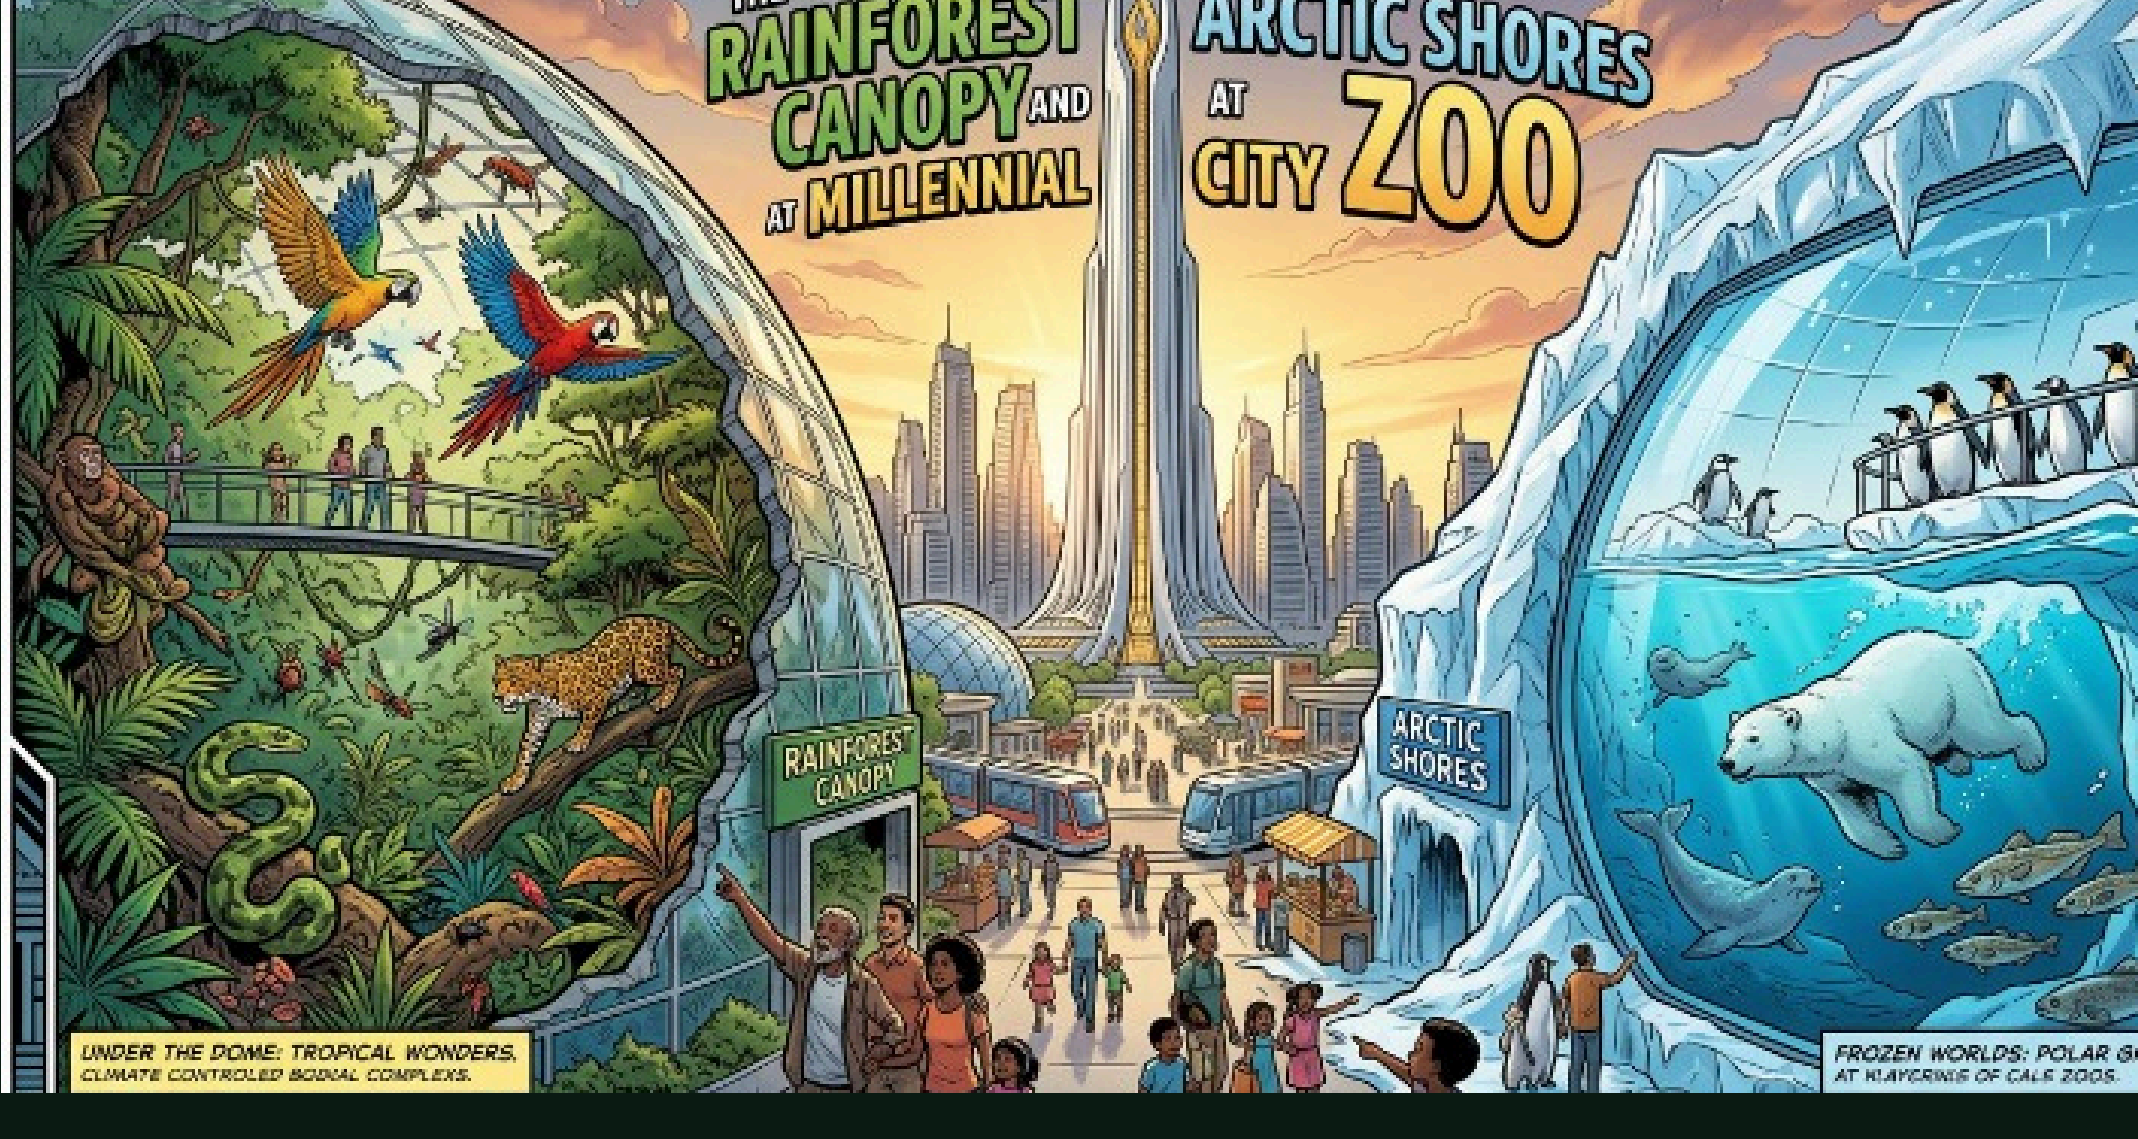

Experience the beauty of the world's grasslands with expansive habitats featuring elephants, giraffes, zebras, big cats, and other incredible species. Guests can explore observation paths and elevated viewing platforms designed to bring visitors closer to nature.

The Rainforest Canopy

Step into a living tropical environment filled with exotic plants, colorful birds, reptiles, and rainforest wildlife. Climate-controlled environments recreate natural ecosystems while supporting important conservation research.

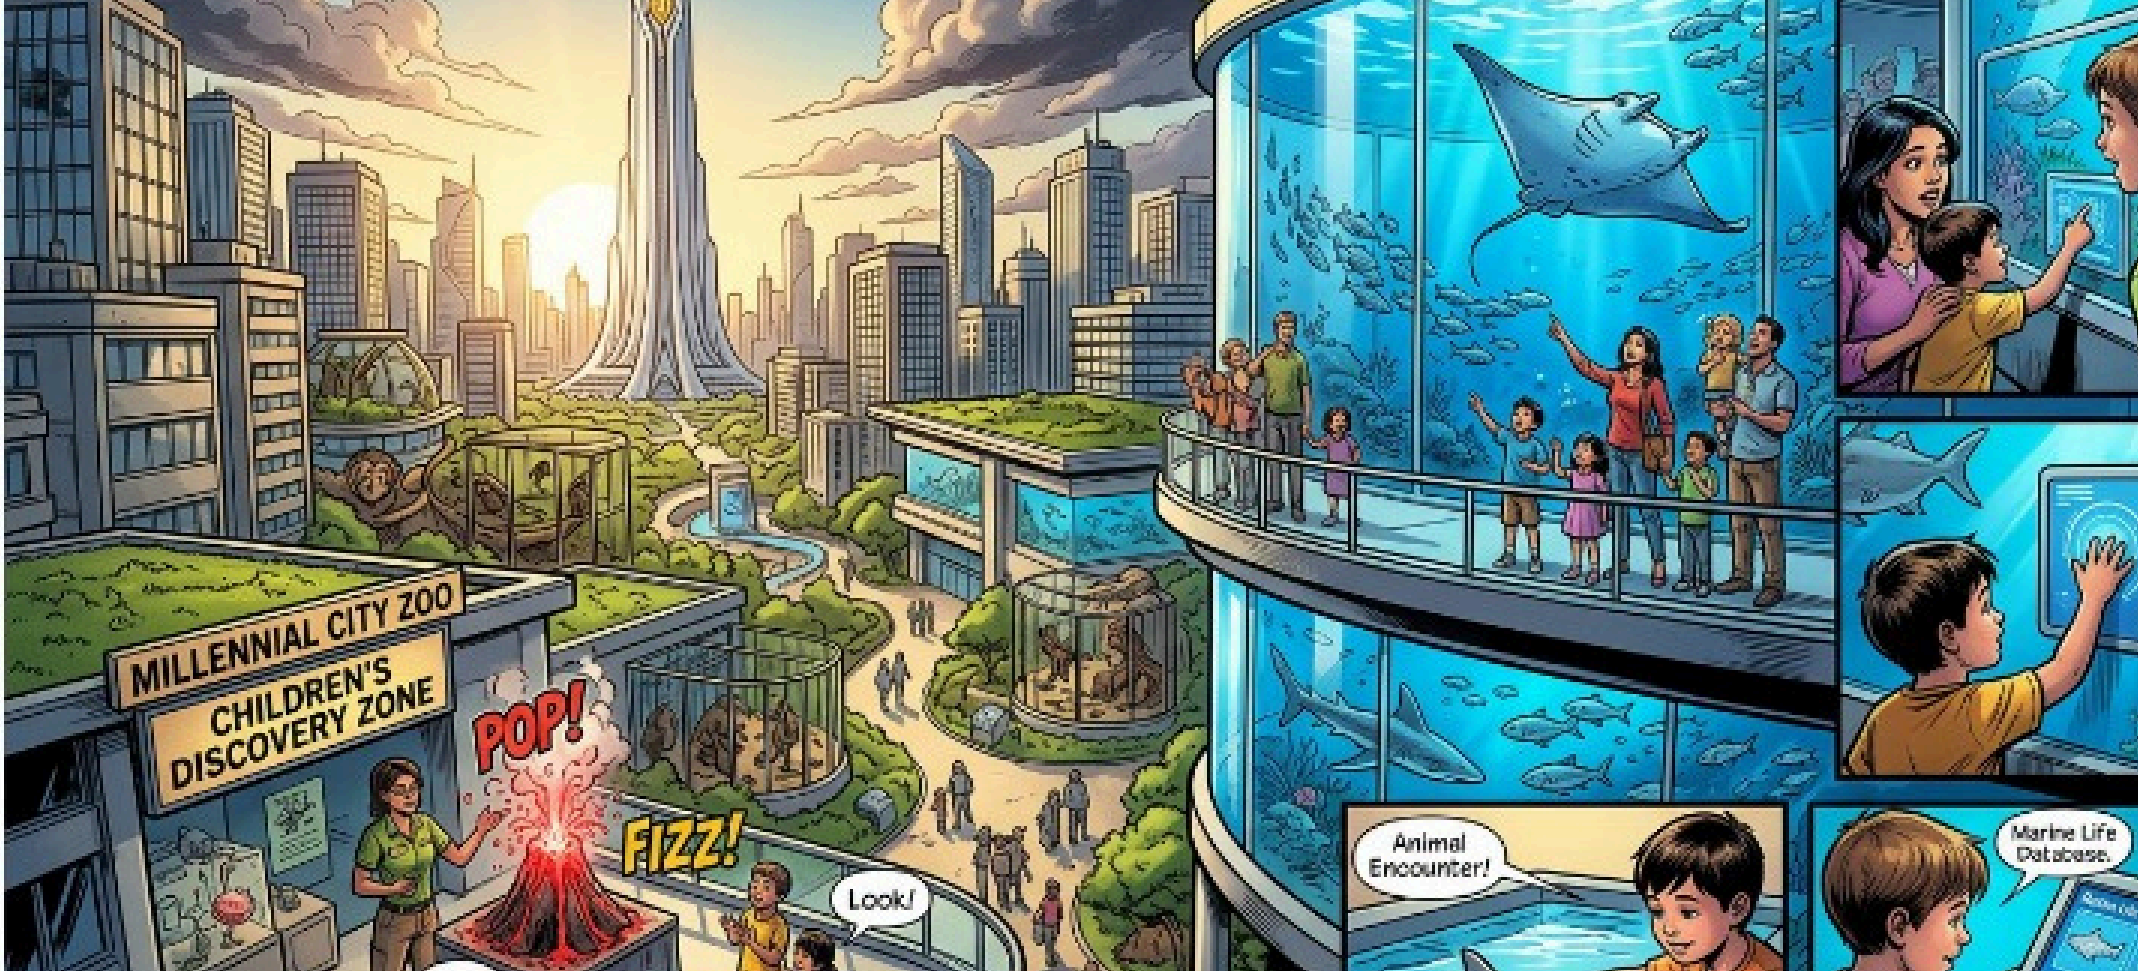

Arctic Shores

Journey into a frozen world featuring polar animals, marine life, and interactive exhibits about climate science and ocean preservation. Visitors can watch underwater habitats through massive viewing windows.

The Children’s Discovery Zone

A hands-on educational area where young explorers can learn about animals through interactive exhibits, animal encounters, science demonstrations, and conservation activities.

The Ocean Discovery Center

A state-of-the-art aquatic facility showcasing marine life from around the world. Featuring massive tanks, educational programs, and conservation projects focused on protecting the planet's oceans.

Conservation & Research

The Millennial City Zoo is more than an attraction — it is a leader in wildlife preservation and scientific discovery. Researchers work with conservation organizations around the world to protect endangered species, restore habitats, and advance veterinary medicine. The zoo also collaborates with Millennial General's research teams on advanced animal health studies and environmental sciences.
